Who is Aegean Cruises

“Aegean Cruises” welcomes you to the magic world of sailing in the Greek islands. Our “meraki”, meaning a passionate love for the sea and the boat, led us to make the sailing business our profession and, in 1983 we founded Aegean Cruises, a prominent yachting and tourism company based in Athens. The sea is a way of life for us. Born in the Aegean and sailing since childhood, we know the sea, the boats, the islands and the world of sailing better than anyone.

With over 20 years of experience at the forefront of the industry, “Aegean Cruises” is an ever expanding company with specialized personnel in all areas of yachting.

Our Chartering Department, the core of the organization, is ready to make your dream of sailing in the most beautiful waters of the Mediterranean come true.

The Brokerage Department is dedicated to our clients who are interested in buying a new or second hand, sailing or motor yacht.

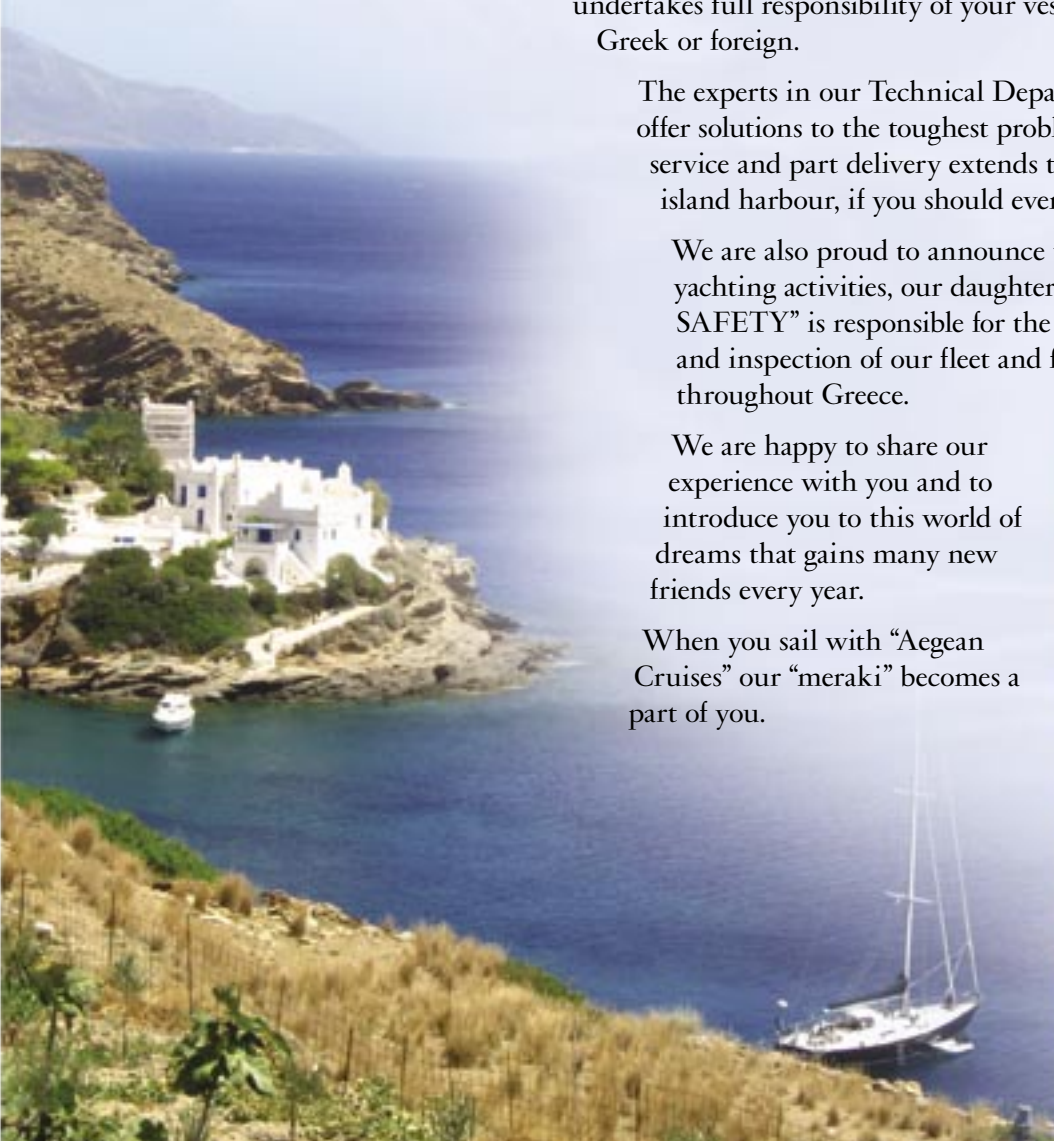

Our Management Department has in depth expertise concerning Greek maritime laws and regulations, and undertakes full responsibility of your vessel Greek or foreign.

The experts in our Technical Department offer solutions to the toughest problem and our service and part delivery extends to the remotest island harbour, if you should ever need our assistance.

We are also proud to announce that in addition to our yachting activities, our daughter company “HELLAS SAFETY” is responsible for the fire and safety equipment and inspection of our fleet and for a large number of vessels throughout Greece.

We are happy to share our experience with you and to introduce you to this world of dreams that gains many new friends every year.

When you sail with “Aegean Cruises” our “meraki” becomes a part of you.

Why sail with Aegean Cruises?

Aegean Cruises is an officially licensed, government regulated and established Yacht Charter and Tourism company.

Book with confidence. We have over 20 years of know-how at the top of the Greek sailing holidays industry.

Our staff is well-trained and highly motivated with great team spirit and morale. We all work very hard to ensure you get the best care and attention – a truly personal service.

We are professional, fun-loving people and take our work very seriously so that you can relax and enjoy the beauties that sailing has to offer.

The fundamental reason of our success is our belief in what we do and our understanding of the industry. We have a passion for sailing, a dedication to the holidays we provide and a wealth of knowledge in both fields.

Our reward: Over 90% of our clients come back year after year or have recommended us to a friend.

We also have not forgotten how important the personal touch can be. Knowing that yacht charter is an affair of mutual trust, our Managing Director Mr. Zacharias Papadakis, will contact you personally upon your arrival. During the orientation, all of your questions will be answered in a friendly and private atmosphere and – just before you embark – we will personally familiarize you with your boat and the systems on board. You may also reach us at any time during your sailing trip and we will support you with daily weather reports, navigation warnings and important news.

Aegean Cruises offers an extensive range of well-maintained, fully equipped yachts for charter that will exceed even your highest expectations at surprisingly favorable rates.

Trust Aegean Cruises, one of the oldest and most experienced Yacht Charter Companies in Greece.

Your Holiday Choices

Whatever your experience and budget, Aegean Cruises will find just the right solution for your sailing holiday.

If you are an experienced sailor and you enjoy the freedom of navigating your own boat, Bareboat cruising is the ultimate escape!

Be your own captain, charter one of our finest 150 yachts and discover the Greek Mediterranean at your own pace.

If you are inexperienced, or you simply do not want to deal with the day-to-day running of your yacht, hire a personal skipper and enjoy the luxury of a Skippered Charter.

If you are holidaying on your own, with a friend, a partner or with your family, then you can still join one of our Skippered Sailing Cruises. This is the ideal, cost effective way of exploring the wonderful world of the Greek islands. You do not need to know anything about sailing. If you wish, our skippers will be happy to introduce you to the skills of yachting. All you really need, is the love for sun and the sea.

Aegean Cruises Services

Transfers

We can arrange your transfer from the airport upon your arrival directly to your boat or to a hotel if you arrive late at night.

Welcome briefing

The charterer and his or her party will be given a general briefing covering the local cruising grounds. Questions about navigation, anchorages, prevailing conditions, or any part of the desired itinerary can be answered. A more specific boat briefing aboard the yacht will then be given, covering all the operating systems, including rigging, electrical system, water system, windlass, stove, dinghy outboard and emergency systems.

Start-up Provisioning

By sending us a provisioning list before your arrival, your provisions will await you on board. Alternatively, you may also go shopping on your own. Our van will take you to a nearby supermarket and bring you back to your boat with your shopping at no extra charge.

Fresh provisions are conveniently obtainable on almost all islands, at markets near to mooring sites. "Dining out" on the islands at one of the many traditional tavernas is inexpensive as well as entertaining. Our advice : Don't choose the next best taverna just because it is close to your boat. Take a walk around the area first. You will be surprised at how many hidden tavernas you will find "off the beaten track".

Luxury Crewed Charters

For those who yearn for the ultimate in luxury crewed yachts, Aegean Cruises has selected an excellent range of sailing yachts, motor yachts and motor sailers.

On board one of these exceptional yachts, absolute privacy, excellent service and independence is guaranteed.

The type of accommodation and service provided are as wide as the choices of yachts ranging from ultra-fast motor yachts to large classic sailing yachts or the traditional Greek motor sailers. For more information on luxury crewed charters -even on «mega exclusive yachts» please contact your local agent or speak to us directly.

Yacht Brokerage

Aegean Cruises operates a successful brokerage department maintaining a database of almost 300 used yachts based in Greece. We can offer you a used yacht that suits your needs or assist you in selling your yacht to one of our clients. If you would like to keep your boat in Greek waters permanently, we take full responsibility for all the necessary maintenance and administrative duties and will get your boat ready whenever you should need it.

Where to sail

Greece is one of the most popular areas for sailing holidays, because of ideal weather conditions and the great number of islands. Over 2.000 picturesque isles and 26.000 km of intricate coastline dotted with tiny fishing villages, peaceful bays, whitewashed houses and archaeological sites make for one of the most attractive areas in the world. Mild temperatures from April to October, blue skies and clear, clean, warm waters, make swimming, snorkeling and, of course, sailing, a pleasure.

The islands are famous for their light and colour, each one with its own character, history and culture.

Every island is a small unique world. The people are cheerful, open and famous for their warm hospitality. - A stranger here is a friend -. Tavernas offering exciting tastes of Greek cuisine, the wine and dancing, are sure to make your evenings magical.

There is a remarkable variety of cruising areas which to chose from. We will be delighted to discuss your itinerary and offer you our advice.

The following information will give a taste of some cruising opportunities available.

The Saronic- Argolic Gulf and the Peloponnesian Coast

Best for easy sailing or for shorter periods of chartering.

This necklace of islands lies in the most tranquil part of these waters. Just two hours of calm sailing and you are in Aegina, the island of pistachios and of Aphaea temple. From there set sail for Epidaurus and discover the famous ancient theatre with the perfect acoustics. Next, sail on to Poros with its charming landscape of yew and black cypress. On the tiny island of Hydra, you will find a world without cars. Yet, in the evening the bars and restaurants of this quiet island come alive. Then sail to Spetses, an island dotted with traditional Greek homes and surrounded by pine forests.

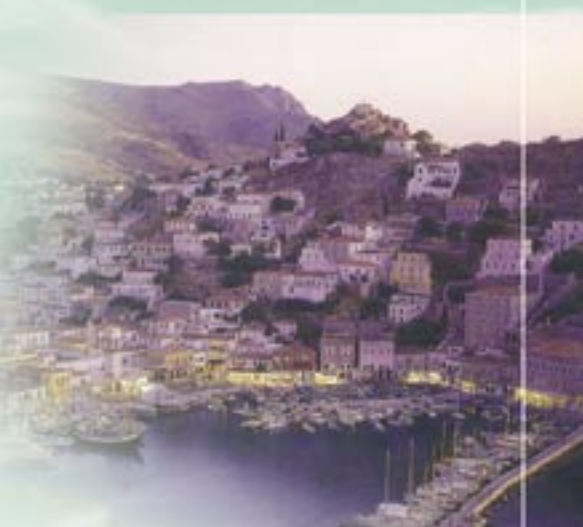

Furthermore, Porto Heli, Nafplio, Astros, Monemvasia with beautiful sandy beaches, unspoiled anchorages and peaceful fishing villages offer the sailor unique cruising grounds for leisure sailing.

Wind and Sailing Conditions

The Saronic, Argolic and eastern coast of the Peloponnesian Gulf is a very well protected cruising area with mild winds, averaging force 3-4, usually from the north to the northeast and ideal for relaxed sailing. In the Argolic Gulf, there is wind mostly in the summer blowing from the southeast, averaging force 3-5. During spring and autumn the winds are normally weaker and blow from the south over the whole area.

Travel Notes

From our base in Alimos Marina you can start your cruise. Alimos (Kalamaki) Marina, located 45 minutes from new Athens International Airport "El. Venizelos" can be accessed by taxi and public bus, which departs every 15 minutes.

An archipelago of more than 30 islands, large and small stretching out to the south of Attica and Euboia, the Cyclades are the ‘pearls’ of the Aegean. White-washed houses, numerous blue-domed churches, small tavernas with local wine and food, picturesque fishing harbours, are considered the most typical part of Greece. Sail to the charming island of Kea with its small village perched atop the harbour. Continue south to Kythnos, then east and visit the island of Syros. Don’t forget to stop in famous Mykonos with its white-washed buildings and trendy clubs. Sail south to Naxos, Ios and Paros, where you will pass in the shadows of white chalk cliffs. Paros is an island of plantations, palm trees and historic monasteries. Also be sure to check out the great beach cafés. Naxos boasts of windmills, churches and the remnants of the Temple of Apollo.

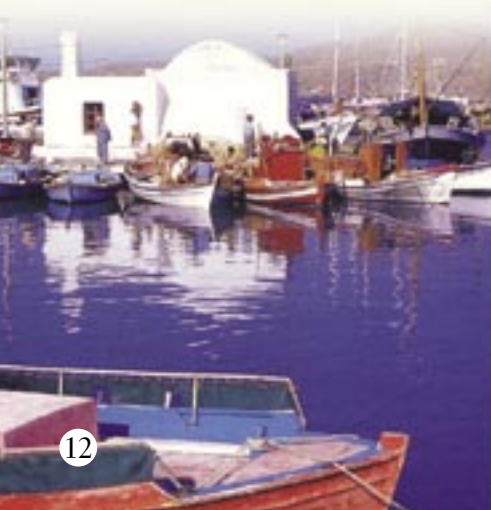

Don’t miss the opportunity to arrange a day trip to Santorini, often called the most beautiful island in the Aegean. Take a gondola up to the top for an unforgettable view. In Sifnos, anchor in the port with two charming cliffside villages. Sail to Serifos past a rocky coast cut with deep coves and great beaches. Here, you can walk among ancient stone formations that resemble human figures. Sail to Milos, Ios, Folegandros, Kythnos, each individual island surprises you with its own character and beauty, make your choice of itineraries unlimited.

Wind and Sailing Conditions

The prevailing wind in the summer is the so called “Meltemi”, which comes from the North. The Meltemi peaks in the middle of July until end of August at force 5-7 and may occasionally reach force 9. During spring and autumn, you may also be facing winds blowing from the south. It is advised that for short charters (e.g. 7 days) the charterer should be aware in advance of the prevailing weather conditions since local winds in summer can reach force 8-9 and last for some days.

Travel Notes

You may begin your trip from our bases in Athens, Alimos Marina, or Lavrion (Main Port) which is situated an hour by car from the new Athens International Airport at the southeast coast of Attica.

The Dodecanese Islands

Countless sailing options for those who seek sailing in stronger winds.

The Dodecanese, are a group of 163 islands forming a line a few miles away from the Turkish coast, on the south-east Aegean Sea.

Every island here brings a host of new discoveries, beginning with Kos. Here, you can visit the Asklepieion, a temple of healing built in the 4th century B.C. Also, take a relaxing dip in the hot springs and mineral bath at the Spas of Thermes. From Kos, countless sailing options are yours. Just over an hour away from our base is the tiny island of Pserimos with its beautiful beach. From here, sail to the charming island of Kalymnos. On the south side visit Vathy Valley and gaze out upon its majestic deep inlet. To the north lies the island of Leros, where you can spend the evening in the quaint fishing village of Pandeli. Dine ashore under the stars at one of the tavernas that line the beach. Arki and Lipsos are small islands with lovely little villages that sit at the head of small tranquil inlets. Don't miss Patmos, home to the monastery of St. Johns. For extended itineraries, sail west and visit the central Cyclades, including Mykonos, Naxos and Amorgos. Sail south from Kos and you will find the island of Nisiros, where a picturesque village teeters on the steep hillside. Don't miss the live sulphur crater at the heart of the island. Further south lies the island of Simi, host to an array of spectacular anchorages nestled in deep bays and surrounded by towering cliffs. Then you can set sail further southeast and discover the cosmopolitan island of Rhodes.

Wind and Sailing Conditions

In the summer the prevailing wind is the "Meltemi" blowing from the northwest at force 4-6. In spring and autumn the wind is less strong and blows from the southeast.

Travel Notes

You can begin your Dodecanese route from our base in Kos (Kos- Marina), half an hour's ride from the international airport of Kos. Embarkation from Rhodes (Mandraki Port), is also possible, next to the ancient castle of Rhodes, 30 minutes drive from the airport.

The Sporades Islands

Best for experienced sailors and those who like green islands with sandy beaches.

You will get under way in Skiathos, a paradise of pine and olive groves with a lagoon and long golden beaches. Sail over to the northern end of Alonissos and lounge on some of the best beaches in the Aegean. At night, check out Steni Vala where the party is always in full swing. Continue north to Pelagos. This tiny island is home to a wildlife sanctuary that serves as a habitat for seals. There are also plenty of caves to explore as well as a famous monastery. A long, open sail to the southeast takes you to Skiros, an island crowned by an ancient acropolis and filled with original Greek architecture. This is also where you'll find the only ponies in Greece. Another nice open sail to the west will take you to Skopelos, a small island with 360 churches and plenty of amazing beaches. On your way back to Skiathos, sail into the protected waters of the Orei Channel. It is an unforgettable voyage marked by charming villages, ancient temples, Byzantine churches and beautiful beaches.

Wind and Sailing Conditions

The prevailing wind in the summer is the "Meltemi", coming from the northeast at force 3-5, although occasionally in July and August wind blows stronger from the northwesterly directions at force 4-6 but dies at the end of September.

Travel Notes

Our base which is about 10 minutes from Skiathos airport, is an ideal starting point for a journey to explore the Sporades and the coast of northern Greece.

1 week charter

The Ionian Islands

Best for relaxing sailing and those who want to find some of the world's most beautiful beaches.

The Ionian Islands are the gateway to Greece. Their vegetation and olive trees date back to Venetian times. Throughout the year, sunshine is the rule and some of the Mediterranean's most beautiful beaches can be found where these lush productive islands meet the sparkling Ionian Sea.

Begin in Corfu, the "jewel" of the Ionian Sea. This friendly, cosmopolitan island is surrounded by a coastline of stunning beauty. South of Corfu you find pristine beaches and the romantic charm of Paxoi. With few local residents, this island is as tranquil as it is beautiful. From here, sail east to Parga - crowned by a Norman castle and surrounded by spectacular evergreen islets. Here you can discover the ruins of an ancient Venetian fortress.

The eastern coast of Lefkas (location of our second base in the Ionian Sea) is filled with traditional Greek architecture and overlooks an "inland sea".

Then there is legendary Ithaca, the fabled domain of Homer's Odysseus. The southernmost island of Kefhalonia offers a spectacular coastline.

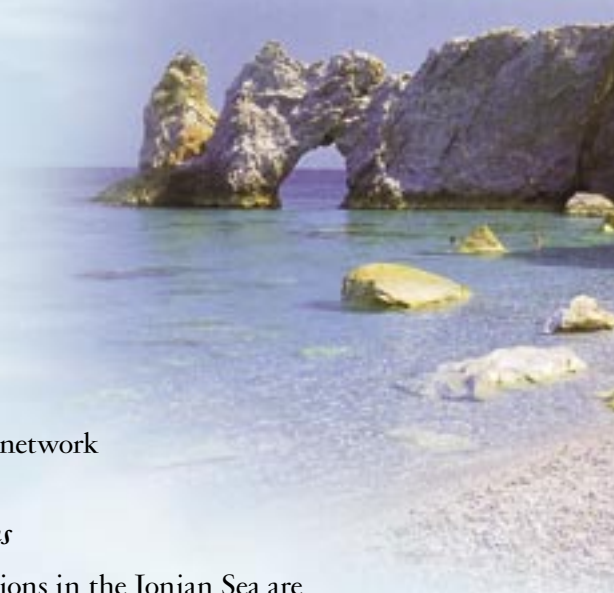

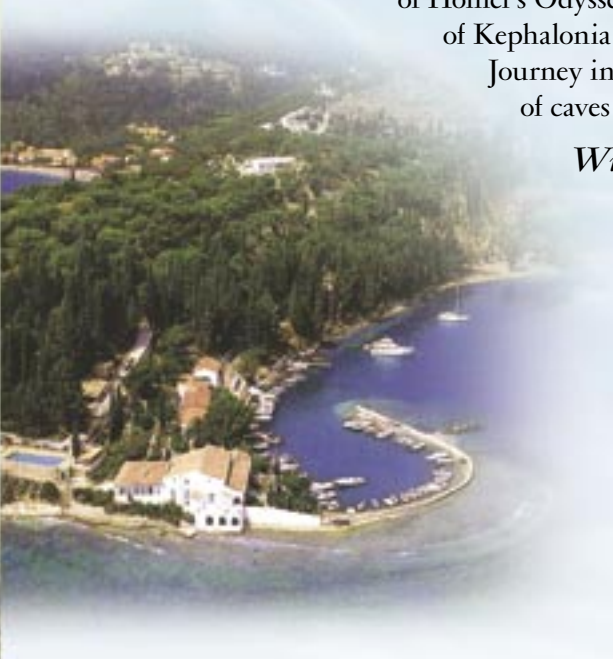

Journey inland and go spelunking in a network of caves some 20,000 years old.

Wind and Sailing Conditions

The wind and sailing conditions in the Ionian Sea are ideal and predictable. From May to September the wind comes from the northwest at force 2-5, mostly after 16:00 hours. In Spring and Autumn the wind is less strong and blows usually from southwest.

Travel Notes

An ideal starting point for your cruise is our base in Corfu (Gouvia Marina) a 15-minutes' drive from Corfu International Airport. Or, you may also wish to embark from our base in Lefkas, located on the island by the Lefkas canal, about a 30 minutes' taxi drive away from the airport of Aktion on the mainland.

Sailing Holidays

Skipped sailing cruises

Follow our course in the wake of Odysseus...

Single, or with family and friends, the only equipment necessary is the love for sun, sea and fun. You can join one of our organized sailing programs.

This is the ideal, cost effective way of exploring and getting to know the Greek islands. They combine adventure, companionship, -you will meet new people and make friends which may last a life time-, comfort and a feeling of freedom you can only experience at sea.

It is not necessary to know anything about sailing, our skippers will be happy to introduce you to the sailing skills.

They are highly trained and very experienced. They speak English, some of them German and French and can orientate you in Greek history and culture.

Coming with your family or friends, you have the possibility of having a yacht to yourselves and plotting your own course.

At the end of your trip ask for your "Golden Sailing Certificate".

Alternatively, you can fit a sailing cruise into your holidays in Greece.

Life on board

You will feel at home on board one of our yachts.

They are chosen for safety, speed and comfort. Modern and fully equipped, they include all the amenities necessary for a luxurious life on board. Sizes from 11 to 16 meters, with 3 to 6 cabins, they can comfortably sleep 6 to 12 guests.

After breakfast or even a morning swim in the crystal blue waters, we set sail.

You can help the skipper with the sails and steering, or just relax and enjoy the carefree sensation of being at sea.

In a few hours the light breeze will bring you to one of these picturesque and peaceful bays. Now you can enjoy the warm water, swimming or snorkelling, perhaps a chance to go fishing or even windsurfing.

Later on in the afternoon, our sails up once more, we will lead you to a safe island harbour just waiting for you to explore.

The night life is full of surprises, in the tavernas with wine and "syrтаки", or at an open-air disco or even under the stars enjoying the charms of nature.

These itineraries may be modified in the event of bad weather conditions or other safety reasons.

Aegean Cruises owns, operates and offers a full range of modern, world class, fully equipped yachts. They are carefully selected from some of the most famous yacht-builders such as Bénéteau, Jeanneau, Bavaria, Lagoon etc.

Unlike most charter companies who merely act as agents between the charterer and owner with little or no control over quality standards, we operate and maintain all Aegean Cruises Yachts. Every yacht in our fleet is annually inspected to meet the highest safety standards and procedures set by the world's leading manufacturers. We sail all of our boats on a regular basis and strive to constantly improve them down to the smallest detail. This way we can be absolutely certain, that you get the safest and most comfortable yachts on the market.

On the following pages we have described and illustrated our fleet to help you choose the right yacht. Our reservation Staff will be pleased to answer any questions you may have.

Delivery – Redelivery

Our starting and ending day is normally Saturday.

Embarking at 16:00 p.m and disembarking at 09:00 a.m.

Aegean Cruises will try to accommodate your wishes for different days of the week and uneven periods of time, such as a ten or twelve day charter.

Security Deposit

You are required to leave a Security Deposit (Guarantee) upon delivery of the boat, in order to cover the possibility of damage to the boat or loss of equipment. The Deposit is returned to you in total when the boat and its equipment are returned intact. In the case of damage or loss the estimated amount is withheld and the rest is returned to you.

Insurance

All Aegean Cruises yachts are insured against risks from liability to third parties and damage to hull, machinery and equipment. There is deductible provision, the amount of which is related to the size of the boat.

Charter fees include

- The yacht -fully maintained and clean-
- Full diesel and water tanks
- The complete inventory list
- Port/Marina fees for the first and last night of the charter
- The yacht's marine insurance
- Contact numbers for 24 hours emergency services by Aegean Cruises
- VAT

Charter fees do not include

Security Deposit, Food and Drink, Harbor dues, Provisioning, Crew fees.

Sailing Qualifications

Greek law requires that if chartering on a bareboat basis (sailing or motor yacht), the Skipper is required to produce an original certificate or license attesting to his sailing qualifications and experience.

How to Book

Select the area in which would you like to cruise, the type of yacht preferred, the dates you would like to travel and contact us or an Aegean Cruises Agent, to check availability, hold an option or proceed with your reservation.

As soon as you confirm your booking, we will send you the Charter Party Agreement in two copies.

You sign the contract copies and pay the advance payment either by bank transfer or by credit card (Mastercard or Visa). That is your booking confirmation.

The balance is paid either to your Agent or to Aegean Cruises, upon delivery of the boat together with the Security Deposit and any extras you may have chosen. The Security Deposit can also be paid by credit card (Mastercard or Visa).

It is recommended that especially for charters during high season, inquiries for bookings should be made months in advance.

Don't forget to bring

Greece is a popular country for holidays, mostly because of its mild temperatures and its bright sun, so bring light clothing. We recommend T-shirts, shorts, your swimming costume, and an extra sweater for cool nights, while light foul weather gear might be necessary for a stormy day. For safety reasons, only boat shoes or rubber soled shoes are allowed on deck. Pack your things in folding bags that are easy to stow, instead of using normal hard suitcases. Don't forget to bring your hat, sunglasses, sunscreen, and your beach towel.

Cancellation Policy

- a. For bookings cancelled between 90 and 60 days prior to embarkation, the charterer will be liable for 25% of the total charter fee.
- b. For bookings cancelled between 59 and 30 days prior to embarkation, the charterer will be liable for 45% of the total charter fee.
- c. For booking cancelled less than 29 days prior to embarkation, the charterer will be liable for the total charter fee.

Aegean Cruises may however return the cancellation fees, if the cancelled yacht is re-chartered for the same period and under the same conditions.
